Dangerous Goods Advisory Circular      DGAC 1/2010

Implementation of Random Checks on Mobile Phone and Electronic Product Shipment

Undeclared Lithium Batteries

It has recently come to the attention of the Dangerous Goods Office that some air cargo consignments departing from Hong Kong International Airport, which claimed to be mobile phone (without battery) or electronic product (without battery), were found to contain undeclared lithium batteries.

Preventive Measure

In order to prevent undeclared dangerous goods from being carried on board aircraft, you are reminded to exercise extra caution on cargo shipment described as “mobile phone (without battery)” or “electronic product (without battery)” or cargo with similar descriptions. The Dangerous Goods Office strongly urges airlines, handling agents and freight forwarders to conduct random checks on such shipments. In case undeclared lithium battery is found, the consignment must not be accepted and the record rejecting such shipment shall be maintained for at least 6 months for inspection.

Should you have any query about this circular, please contact Safety Officers (Dangerous Goods) at 2182 1221 or 2182 1214.
